Renee, your update on all things LGMS.

Maximising civil liability defences part four: A lower standard of care for public authorities

Author: By Kevin Johnson, LGM Liability & Assets Claims Manager

The Civil Liability Act 2003 (Qld) (CLA) recognises that the standard of care of a public authority should be lower than the standard of care for the average reasonable person. Learn about what the lower standard of care defence is, and when an act or omission 'so unreasonable' that duty will be breached, and get a clearer understanding through a defence example. Read more.

Building resilience amid uncertainty.

Organisations that understand the imperative for resilience and begin to build it into their planning and operation will best position themselves to capture the opportunities and respond to threats in tomorrow's uncertain future. Read more.
